AGR. AGENT AND NURSE DROPPED

PETITION FOR APPROPRIATION FOR HOSPITAL DEFEATED

The session of the Board of Supervisors at the Court house last week was unusually long and lasted to late Saturday afternoon. This is usually a short session, but there were many things to come before the board that consumed a lot of time.

Among the important acts of the board at the session were the dropping of the County Agricultural agent; the dropping of the County Red Cross nurse and defeat of the petition to appropriate $1,500 annually toward the support of Mercy hospital.

The Board had on an economy streak and it remains to be seen whether their judgment was good or not. It does seem as if a County agricultural agent could be a very useful person in the county. If the agricultural interests did not require all his time he could be useful in the schools of the county where his time could be well spent.

There has always been more or less agitation about keeping a county Red Cross nurse. We have had occasions when such a nurse was almost invaluable and no doubt was the means of saving serious outbreaks of disease.

There seemed to be a question as to whether or not the Board had the power to vote an appropriation for $1,500 annually for the hospital. Supervisor Nelson of Grayling and Kellogg of Lovells voted in favor of the project, the others voting no.

The official report of the proceedings of the board appears in this issue of the Avalanche where it may be read and considered. The claims listed and allowed do not cover all the funds paid out by the board. The treasurer's audit alone would show just the money paid out and also the receipts and, in order that the public could know fully where their money is being spent, that audit report should be published in full. The supervisors' report only partially shows where the tax payers' money is being spent.

Another very important thing the board did was to accept the resignation of H. A. Bauman as chairman of the County Board Commission. Mr. Bauman was appointed to the board last fall and made a good showing in that office for economy and was making a big saving for the tax payers. He didn't like jangling with the Board of Supervisors and stated that he didn't have to tolerate it and fled for recreation. Efforts were made to get Mr. Bauman to withdraw his resignation but he said "no." Erv F. P. Richardson was appointed to fill the vacancy. The Board of county commissioners now consists of E. P. Richardson, South Branch township; James P. Knibbs, Maple Forest; and Erv F. P. Richardson.

Another important matter that came up at the session was the $10,000 for improvement of the down river road, from Grayling to Sigbee. The work on this highway was begun several years ago and about two miles had been built near the Feldhauser school house. This should have been one of the first roads to have been constructed as there is a lot of travel that direction. Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property lies along the AuSable river and the north branch of the AuSable and the owners have been paying taxes thereon for many years and have received but little in return. They deserve a first class highway in that direction. If the supervisors and voters don't wake up soon to the fact that we have got to give these people some consideration, we may kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

Supervisor Scott was in favor of using $1,000 of the $10,000 appropriated on a highway in South Branch township, running to Roscommon. That would leave only $9,000 for the down river road. All other supervisors voted against the division of the funds and it is directed that the down river road be built this summer. E. P. Richardson of the County Road commission was quite confident because he wanted the money spent on the South Branch

NEW COMPANY TAKES OVER LOCAL PLANT

GRAYLING MFG. CO. FORMED TO MAKE WOOD PRODUCTS

Lease Plant of Grayling Dowel & Tie Plug Co.

The Grayling Dowel & Tie Plug Co. plant has been leased by the Grayling Manufacturing Company, a newly formed organization, headed by Robert H. Gillett, manager of the former plant.

For several weeks the movement has been on for the organization of the new company. The stock is being taken up by local citizens and directors and officers have been elected. They are to take over the old plant May 1st for the manufacture of dowels, tie plugs and a number of other articles made from wood. New machinery will be purchased and it is hoped that it will be in operation soon.

Mr. Gillett announces that a new and improved method will be employed in the manufacture of dowels, turning them by lathes rather than by die punching. Lumber may be used by that method which will enable the Company to operate for many years to come. The present method is not only obsolete but also, the dowels being made from logs, timber is getting scarce and hard to get, necessitating frequent shut-downs.

The Grayling Dowel Co. was organized about 25 years ago. It operated under that name up to about 13 years ago when it added the manufacture of the plugs, and taking the name Grayling Dowel & Tie Plug Co. During the past ten years it has been under the management of Mr. Gillett. The business made an excellent showing just as long as raw material was plentiful.

New machines will be installed costing about $10,000 and other changes be made in the plant. Mr. Gillett says the outlook for a thriving business looks bright. He already has on hand orders that will keep the plant running for some time.

The officers and directors of the new organization are as follows: Fred R. Welch, president; Nick Schlotz, vice president; Frank Sals, secretary; Robert H. Gillett, treasurer and general manager; J. W. Sorenson, M. Hanson, Geo. Burke.

In the organization of this company Grayling is taking a step forward industrially. It is expected that there will be an employment roll of from 60 to 75 just as soon as the Company can get upon a regular operating basis. The people putting their money into the Company have the utmost faith in Mr. Gillett as a manager, and that opinion prevails generally among the people of the city. These men are to be commended for their enterprise and we wish the new organization great success. There is still more stock to be subscribed which it is hoped will be taken up soon.

During the evening the Juniors served punch and wafers to their guests. The gym floor was filled to capacity with dancers while the balcony was entirely surrounded with spectators. Miss Stinchcomb is the Junior class counselor and she together with the class are to be complimented for giving such a successful party.

They were a large number of out of town guests among whom were Mrs. Bissell, Mr. and Mrs. Torcott, Mrs. Olson, Misses Birgitta Bissell, Helen Kovick, Sadie Torcott, Kenneth Olson, Bernard Brown, Duane Lehigh, Rossegger, of Boyne City; Lewis Garrison Jr., of Bay City; Mr. and Mrs. T. Rockwell, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lundeen, Prof. and Mrs. Harkett, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Haight, Mr. Alex. Cole, Leon Goetz, Keith, and Miss Katherine Clark, all of Grayling; Miss Wickett and Miss Lucile Wickett, Elmira, C. I. Lerhke, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeWaele Jr. and daughter, Roscommon; Cecil MacKeachie, Herald Miller, Miss Mary Coleman, Miss Shirley McNevin, Petoskey.

MAY DAY CHILD HEALTH DAY

You are asked to attend a Pre-school Clinic at the school house May 10-11.

It seems quite necessary for children to have at least one physical examination by a physician before they enter school.

In order to make this possible for everyone there will be a free Pre-school Clinic this spring. (At least for the children entering school next term.)

Please register with the County Supervisor who will be at school every forenoon between 9 and 11 for an appointment for your Pre-school child. Any child between 3 and 5 years of age should be at this clinic.

The local doctors will examine assisted by the Woman's club.

CLEAN-UP-WEEK

APRIL 30-MAY 5

Proclamation by the President

To conform with the proclamation of Governor Green, I respectfully request all citizens of Grayling to observe Clean-Up-Week, April 30 to May 5th, and request that the people co-operate with our Village Officials in trying to make Grayling a CLEAN CITY and one in which we may take especial pride.

It is the duty of all to exert their utmost efforts to rid the Village of all unsightly and unhealthy conditions. Therefore,

I hereby designate April 30th to May 5th, as Clean-Up-Week.

H. PETERSEN, Village President.

Answer this, continued Mr. Smith: Do we eat the flesh of the whale?

V-y-yes, sir, faltered Glenn.

And what, pursued Mr. Smith, do we do with the bones?

Why, sir, responded Glenn, We leave them on the sides of our plates.

A large crowd attended the Junior Prom. Lots of outsiders. All reported a good time.

DELL WAIT LAID TO REST

The funeral service for Dell Wait who passed away at Mercy hospital

April 17th, was held Friday afternoon at Michelson Memorial church.

It was conducted by Grayling lodge F. & A. M. of which the deceased was a member. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. John Wilfred Greenwood, pastor of the church.

The casket was borne by T. W. Hanson, Dr. C. G. Clippert, Harry Hemmington, Lorraine Sparkes, Roy O. Mines and George Olson. Honorary pall-bearers were Alfred Johnson, A. J. Nelson, Clarence Johnson, Earl Hewitt and Alvin LaChapelle, members of Grayling Post American Legion, brother ex-service men of the deceased. The casket was covered by a large American flag, and surrounding were banks of floral pieces.

Miss Marie Schmidt sang in her sweet manner "Some Day You'll Understand" and was accompanied by Mrs. Clippert. Later the two ladies sang "Nearer My God to Thee."

Rev. Greenwood took for his text "The Eternal God is thy refuge and underneath are the everlasting arms" from Deuteronomy.

The remains were taken early the following morning to Lansing for burial. Among those from out of the city present at the funeral here were: Mr. and Mrs. James Wait of Bay City; parents; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wait, Bay City; Mrs. George Weaver, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wait of Chicago; Mrs. Clara Townsend and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wait and children; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Cohen, Miss Jane Smith and Sam Barrett, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Friedman and daughter, Dorothy; Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Woods, Flint.

STATE OFFERS PHEASANT EGGS

APPLICATIONS MUST BE FILED BY DECEMBER 1

The State Department of conservation is offering pheasant eggs for purchase. Under the new system of distribution everyone who asks for eggs will receive a printed circular which tells in detail just what sort of nest, coop, hen and care is needed.

When requested, as to the difficulties encountered, eggs hatched, chicks reared, and otherwise, the best results from the free eggs.

Applications may be filed with the Department or with Philip G. Zais, man, superintendent of the local Trout hatchery. Those interested should make application early. Already hundreds of applications are on file and more coming in on every mail.

TAKEN BY DEATH

Mrs. George Wagner, 70 years of age, passed away April 10th at 1:20 o'clock at her home at 733 State street, Traverse City, Mich., following two months illness.

Laura Ede Morgan was born August 28, 1858, at White Oak, Mich. She was united in marriage to Henry Edward Moon May 26, 1874, and to this union were born eight children, seven of whom, Albert, Loren and Laura of Grayling, Will of Jackson, Mable Christenson of Flint, Mrs. Minnie Hanna and John Moon of Traverse City are left to mourn their loss, besides 11 grand children and 14 great grandchildren.

A son Floyd, was drowned in Lake Erie in 1910. The couple lived in Grayling for 30 years and in 1915 Mr. Moon passed away.

His widow was married to George Wagner in September, 1921 in Traverse City and had since made her home at 733 State street.

Prayer services were held at the residence Thursday morning at 8:30. Rev. Howard H. Tamm, pastor of the First Congregational church officiating. The funeral party left on the 9:25 train for Grayling where burial was made in the family lot.

DOUGLAS-GILLES

A quite wedding was solemnized at the Michigan Memorial church, Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, when Miss Ruth Bernice Colten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Colten, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Edgar Douglas, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Douglas. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Wilfred Greenwood. Miss Colten was in a gray ensemble suit, and was attended by her sister Miss Maxine Colten, who was becomingly gowned in peach georgette. The groom was attended by Dr. J. P. Warren of N. P. Smith. A reception for about twenty guests was given by Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Colten at Colten's Inn, Lake Michigan, which had been beautifully decorated in pink and white. The bride's chosen colors. The guests found their places around two large tables, the center of which contained large silver baskets of pink and white roses and baby's breath. Dainty pink and white crepe paper buds and lilies formed the nut cases and centerpieces.

Mrs. Douglas was born in Grayling and is a graduate of Grayling High School, class of 1934. Mr. Douglas was born in Lovell and is a graduate of class of 1935. The young couple are well known in Grayling and Lovell and have the best wishes of their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas left Friday evening for Ish Hills, which is located just outside of Ypsilanti, and will spend a few days there, after which they will return to Lovell, where they will reside for the present.

Bay Port is one of the towns which possess special attributes in this regard and these attributes are augmented by a historic past that is full of romance.

BE EASY WITH THE "CHOKE"

By Erwin Geyer

(President Greer School of Electrical and Automotive Trades, Chicago, Ill.)

Since removal of the cylinder head and scraping is the most effective means of accomplishing the needed cleaning of the engine, it can be said that there is inevitably some trouble and expense to be encountered when this treatment has to be given.

The frequency with which the cylinder head has to be scraped and deposits scraped off in order to stop the engine from knocking, can sometimes be greatly reduced by attention to the following points:

Maintain good fuel vaporization by so controlling the cooling system that the water is well warmed as much of the time as possible. Give the carburetor and manifold sufficient heat at all times, especially in cold weather.

The latest practicable fuel mixture will leave the least deposit and to secure this the carburetor should be adjusted (with the engine fully heated up) so that any further reduction in richness will cause a decided falling off of engine power. Oil of well maintained body must be used to prevent too much of it from passing the piston and carbonizing.

Therefore, use the best oil and change it before it becomes too thin or dirty. Oil that leaves little solid residue, when highly heated should be used. It is difficult to select such oils, but fairly high priced brands, produced by distillers of established reputations, are the safest to use. Correctly fitted piston rings capable of returning excess oil to the crankcase, are an important safeguard against carbonization and piston rings should occasionally be treated with kerosene to keep them from moving in their grooves. Dust in the air, taken in through the carburetor is a large component of "carbon" deposits.

A good air cleaner will largely prevent it from entering the engine and should be used on all cars, particularly on sandy roads. Almost any car can be equipped with some one of the many forms of cleaners now on the market. The operator can assist in the prevention of carbon accumulation by using the choke as little as possible, by avoidance of unnecessary idling of his engine, by care in keeping engine oil fresh and clean and never running his car when the engine is missing or explosions.

Take your prescriptions to the Central Drug Store.

PREACHES BETTER HOMES SERMON

SERMON PREACHED IN MICHELSON MEMORIAL CHURCH
APRIL 22, 1938

REV. GREENWOOD PLEASERS
LARGE CONGREGATION

[The Avalanche is pleased to publish the excellent sermon by Rev. John Wilfred Greenwood of Michelson Memorial church, last Sunday morning. It is such a masterful sermon that have filled the pews of that church each Sunday.—Ed.]

Text: Deut. 6:4-5

"Listen, Israel: the Eternal, the Eternal alone, is our God. And you must love the Eternal your God, with all your mind, all your soul, and all your strength. These words you must learn by heart; this charge of mine you must impress them upon your children; you must talk about them when you are sitting at home, you must inscribe them on the doorposts of your houses and on your gates."

Probably no recent writer has said so much in a single line of poetry as Eddie Guest, our own beloved Michigan poet, has said in that sentence of strength and beauty which reads: "It takes a heap o' livin' to make a house a home."

It is a wise observation on the part of the poet that notes the difference between a house and a home. And the title for this week's observance is suggestively worded "Not Better House—But Better Homes Week." A house implies so much more than a home, and houses are more or less the visible expression of the art that lies inherent in human souls. If there is artistic beauty in the soul of man, that very inner life will fashion itself in brick and mortar and decorations, and appearance. There must be exquisite pictures in the artist's soul, before he can paint them on canvas, and there must be the days when the best before we can materially improve the houses in which we live. Shoddy idealism has its part to play in shoddy places of residence. So I confess that I am vitally interested in the abiding values in human life that change human outlooks and even the temporary abiding places of men. Some men live in hижions, (since money has made them possible) but lack an earnest every detail the true character in home life. Others live in a house by the side of the road and find their little spot of love and happiness and laughter to be an antechamber of heaven.

There has been no period in our history (in recent years at least) when the American home was attacked from without and within as it is being attacked today. These are the days when the disciples of permissiveness, the advocates of companionate marriage, these are the days when we are liable to be carried away by the vapors of fun, over and over again, and the facts established in the very constitution of the universe. You may have many interpretations of the story of Genesis in those early chapters, but there are a few facts which which to my mind are relationships. The first one is expressed in the first four words of the Bible: "In the beginning God." The whole teachings of Jesus Christ rest back on that postulate. And whether you accept the fiat theory of the creation or the evolutionary concept, somewhere and at some time, God breathed into the nostrils of man, and he became a living soul. That is the basis of all human life. Religious men of the very being, life is a worshipping creature.

The third thing I want you to observe is that in the interests of man's development, God established the principle of six days work and one day rest. It isn't the question of Saturday or Sunday, it is the principle making for a full and happy life. For the Sabbath was made for man. He is God's primary consideration. And the Sabbath has no meaning apart from that. But let us remember that man is a soul having a body. So long as God wanted to perpetuate the species, he started the first home on the basis of one man and one woman. If he had intended that man should have many wives, or a woman should have many husbands, he would have arranged it so! But Monogamy is basic in God's establishment of life. You may comment on the fact that Solomon had many wives and in fact many of them were idolatrous, and it is also true, that such childish concepts of a people in their racial childhood. But Jesus re-emphasized for us the old fundamental principles laid down in the beginning. "A man shall leave his father and mother and cleave to his wife, and the twain shall be one flesh." So they are no longer two, but one. What God hath joined together let no man put asunder. When they tried to justify the divorce in case, by quoting the rule of Moses, he answered them by saying: "Moses permitted you to divorce your wives on account of the hardness of your hearts, but it was not so (from the beginning)." Whoever divorces a wife except for unchastity and marriage another woman commits adultery.

And from such families established in Christian homes we have had a two-fold achievement. It has been the most effective way in controlling and idealizing physical relations, though we grant the enormity of immorality in Christian countries. And then it has conserved and developed a divine otherism in the human group. No family can long endure on the basis of selfishness. Where it exists to a large extent, that family will be ruined. The end during family stands for unselfishness—fathers have become God-like in sacrifice for their children, and mothers' faces have been transfigured by the love which the family life has drawn forth.

THE SENIOR PLAY NEXT WEEK

THE HOUSE OF A THOUSAND THIRLLES

Of interest to many is the coming of the annual Senior play. This year the Seniors have undertaken something difficult. Being amateurs they have selected an unusual play in that it is mysterious and requires much skill to produce the necessary effect. However, they are going to show us that "It Can Be Done."

The class are in need of money and it seems that as they are putting forth so great an effort to give us an evening intermingled with tenacity and fun, we should, likewise, turn out and patronize them, thereby enlarging their funds.

Just an idea of what is awaiting you. There will be three big acts in which are detectives, writers, travelers, crooks and ghosts. In the dead of night are heard blood-curdling yells, screams, moans, pistol shots, lightning, thunder and it finally ends in two thrilling romances.

Between acts you will have the privilege of hearing Mr. Patrick Gilligan speak on "The Irish in American History" and Hank Hoskins, a good judge of horses, on "Whom?"

The play will be given next week, May 4. The cast will appear in next week's paper. In the meantime be prepared to purchase your ticket. And, don't forget! Get a reserved seat ticket at Olson's Drug Store, only ten cents.

E. M. T. PLANS OUTDOOR LIFE EXHIBIT

(By E. M. T. Service)

The East Michigan Tourist association is completing plans for its exhibit at the Outdoor Life Exposition at the Coleman, Chicago, May 7 to 12. The association will distribute East Michigan literature at this show.

Members of the association who will be in Chicago at the time of the show will be made welcome at the E. M. T. booth.

The Michigan exhibits, it is believed, will dominate the show this year. This is largely attributable to the co-operation which has existed in the planning for the exhibits between the Conservation Department of the state, the East Michigan Tourist association, the West Michigan Tourist association and the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

The East Michigan Tourist association can still make arrangements for space for any members of the association who desire to engage exhibit space. The association has notified the chamber of commerce affiliated with their literature will be distributed from the association booth.

USEFUL INFORMATION

Some months present so much heavier cash expense than others, it is well to look ahead and provide if possible for these periods. If Easter outfits caught you unaware, how about graduation? You have a vacation fund, doubtless, but the new school term, with books to buy, and often fall clothing, follows hard on the heels of the holidays.

Have you seen the new leaflet, No. 17, on "Cooking Beef According to the Cut"? It is issued free by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. One of the recommendations made in it is that a thermometer should be used in roasting ribs of beef, in order to tell whether they are rare, medium, or well done. This removes the element of guesswork and gives the same results every time.

E. M. T. OFFICE FORCE UNUSUALLY BUSY

(By E. M. T. Service)

The office of the East Michigan Tourist association is a hive of industry these days. Six young women are busily engaged throughout the work-day answering inquiries from those interested in East Michigan's vacation appeals. Every mail brings scores of requests from residents of all sections of the country.

These inquiries are the result of advertising and direct mail publicity by bankers, dentists, physicians, teachers, etc.

Indications are that the 1938 season will be East Michigan's greatest tourist and resort season. Inquiries, resort developments, weather predictions, etc., all point to a big season.

Essay Contest Open for School Pupils PRIZES OFFERED

What civic improvements are needed in Grayling? The Avalanche is offering the pupils of Grayling the privilege of answering.

A $2.00 cash prize is offered for the best answer, and $1.00 for the second best. Impartial judges will be asked to judge the contest, and the winning essays will be published in the Avalanche. All essays must be in our hands not later than May 15th.

Contestants are requested to limit their essays to not more than 500 words. Special attention should be given to suggestions for improving Grayling that are sensible and practicable.

We hope to have at least ten entries in the contest. Here is an opportunity to be of real service to our city.

Miss Hansen was hostess to the ladies of her bridge club at a luncheon at Shoppenagons Inn Saturday. The long table was decorated with spring flowers and pink candles in silver holders. Three tables were filled for the game at the home of the hostess later. Mrs. C. R. Keyport held the high score.

BOY-TO-TOY CLUB

A quite wedding was solemnized at Michelson Memorial church Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, when Miss Buehler Bernice Collen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Collen, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Edgar Douglas, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Douglas. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Wilfred Greenwood.

Miss Collen was most charming in a gray ensemble suit, and was attended by her sister Miss Maxine Collen, who was becomingly robed in peach georgette. The groom was attended by Dr. J. R. Warren of Ypsilanti.

The bride was escorted by Mr. and Mrs. George Collen at Collen's Inn, Lake Marguerite, which had been beautifully decorated in pink and white, the bride's chosen colors. The guests found their places around two large tables, the center of which contained large silver baskets of pink and white roses and baby's breath. Dainty pink and white cake paper held and served the guests. The bride and groom were seated at the end of the tables.

Mrs. Douglas was born in Grayling and is a graduate of Grayling High School, class of 1924. Mr. Douglas was born in Lovells and is a graduate of 1925. The young couple are well known in Grayling and Lovells and have the best wishes of their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas left Friday evening for Irish Hills, which is located just outside of Ypsilanti, and will spend a few days there, after which they will return to Lovells where they will reside for the summer.

Frank J. Kischgraber, secretary of the Community club at Bay Port, located in Huron county near the tip of the Thumb, was a visitor at the office of the East Michigan Tourist association recently and manifested an interest in the wide spread activities of the organization. The local offices, the bustling executive, the packed mail boxes, gave him a new impression of the organization.

Bay Port, one of the bustling villages of the Thumb, has just organized a Community club and is preparing to have its place on the sun with the other East Michigan towns which will share their recreational advantages with residents of other states. Bay Port is one of the towns which possesses special attributes, in the regard and these attributes are regarded by a historic past that is full of romance.

BE EASY WITH THE "CHOKES"

(By Edwin Grever)

(President Grever School of Electrical and Automotive Trades, Chicago, Ill.)

Since removal of the cylinder head and scraping is the most effective means of accomplishing the needed cleansing of the engine, it can be seen that there is inevitably some trouble and expense to be encountered when this treatment is given to the engine. The frequency with which the cylinder head has to be "unhooked and deposited" in order to stop the engine from knocking, can sometimes be greatly reduced by attention to the following points:

Maintain good fuel vaporization by so controlling the cooling system that the water is well warmed at much of the time as possible. Give the carburetor and manifold sufficient heat at all times, especially in cold weather.

The leanest practicable fuel mixture will leave the least deposit and to secure this the carburetor should be adjusted with the engine fully heated up so that any further reduction in richness will cause a decided falling off of engine power. Oil of well maintained body must be used to prevent too much of it from pressing the piston and carbonizing.

Therefore, use the best oil and change it before it becomes too thin or dirty. Oils that leave little solid residue, when highly heated, should be used. It is difficult to select such oils, but fairly high priced brands, produced by distillers of established reputations, are the safest to use. Correctly fitted piston rings capable of returning excess oil to the crankcase are an important safeguard against carbonization, and piston rings should be occasionally treated with kerosene to keep them free to move in their grooves. Dust in the air, taken in through the carburetor, is a large component of "carbon" deposits.

A good air cleaner will largely prevent it from entering the engine and should be used on all cars, particularly on sandy roads. Almost any car can be equipped with some one of the many forms of cleaners now on the market. The operator can assist in the prevention of carbon accumulation by using the choke as little as possible, by avoidance of unnecessary idling of his engine, by care in keeping engine oil fresh and clean and never running his car when the engine is missing explosions.

PREACHES BETTER HOMES SERMON

SERMON PREACHED IN MICHELSON MEMORIAL CHURCH

APRIL 22, 1929

REV. GREENWOOD PLEASES LARGE CONGREGATION

The Avalanche is pleased to publish the excellent sermon by Rev. John Wilfred Greenwood of Michelson Memorial church, last Sunday morning. It is such a masterful sermon that have filled the pews of that church each Sunday.—Ed.]

Text: Deut. 6:4-9.

"Listen, Israel: The Eternal, the Eternal alone, is our God. And you must love the Eternal your God, with all your mind, all your soul, and all your strength. These words you must learn by heart, this charge of mine. You must impress them upon your children, you must talk about them when you are sitting at home—you must inscribe them on the doorposts of your houses and on your gates."

Probably no recent writer has said so much in a single line of poetry as Edith Guest, our own beloved Michigan poet, has said in that sentence of strength and beauty which reads: "It takes a heap of livin' to make a house a home."

It is a wise observation on the part of the poet that notes the difference between a house and a home. And the title for this week's observance is suggestively worded "Not Better Homes Week but Better Homes."

For a home implies so much more than a house. And houses are more or less the visible expression of the art that lies inherent in human souls. If there is artistic beauty in the soul of man, that very inner life will fashion itself in brick and mortar as decorations, and appearance. There must be exquisite taste in the artist's soul, before he can paint them on canvas, and there must be a finer beauty in our souls; a finer appreciation of the best, before we can materially improve the houses in which we live life. Shoddy idealism has its part to play in shoddy places of residence. So I confess that I am vitally interested in the abiding values in human life that change human outlooks and even the temporary abiding places of men. Some men live in mansions (since money has made them possible) but lack in almost every detail the true elements in home life. Others live in "a house by the side of the road" and find their little spot of love and happiness and laughter to be an antechamber to heaven.

There has probably been no period in our history (at least in the last half century) when the American home was attacked from without and within as it is being attacked today. These are the days when the disciples of personal liberty orality advocate companionate marriages; these are the days when we are liable to be carried away by the vapors of foods over against the facts established in the very constitution of the universe.

You may have many interpretations of the story of Genesis in these chapters, but there is a new revelation which is as new as the fundamental in human life and human relationships. The first one is expressed in the first four words of the Bible: "In the beginning God." The whole teachings of Jesus Christ rest back on that postulate. And whether you believe in the evolutionary concept of evolution or not, some of the things that God breathed into the nostrils of man, and he became a living soul. That is to say, he is incurably religious.

Religion is part of his very being. He is a worshipping creature. And the third thing I want you to observe is, that in the interests of the human development, God established the principle of six days work and one day rest. It isn't the question of Saturday or Sunday. It is the principle of making for a full and happy life. For the Sabbath was made for man. He is God's primary consideration. And the sabbath has no meaning apart from that. But let us remember that man is a soul having a body. So too, when God wanted to perpetuate the species, he started the first home on the basis of one man and one woman. If he had intended that man should have many wives, he would have arranged it so. But Monogamy is basic in God's establishment of a home. You may comment on the fact that Solomon had many wives, and, in fact, many of the Old Testament characters, and it is also true that such childish concepts of a people in their racial childhood. But Jesus re-nunciated for us the old fundamental principles of marriage in the beginning. "A man shall leave his father and mother and cleave to his wife, and the twain shall be one flesh. So they are no longer two, but one. What God hath joined together let no man put asunder. When they tried to justify the divorce issue, by quoting the rule of Moses, he answered them by saying: "Moses permitted you to divorce your wives on account of the hardness of your hearts, but it was not so from the beginning." Whoever divorces a wife except for unchastity and marries another woman commits adultery.

And from such families established in Christian homes we have had a two-fold achievement. It has been the most effective way in controlling and idealizing physical relations, though we grant the enormity of immorality in Christian countries. And then it has conserved and developed a divine element in the human group. No family can long endure on the basis of sheer selfishness.

Where it exists to a large extent, that family will be ruined. The enduring family stands for unselfishness—fathers have become God-like in sacrifice for their children, and mothers' faces have been transfigured by the love which the family life has drawn forth.

THE SENIOR PLAY

NEXT WEEK

"THE HOUSE OF A THOUSAND THIRIES"

Of interest to many is the coming of the annual Senior play. This year the Seniors have undertaken something difficult. Being amateurs they have selected an unusual play in that it is mysterious and requires much skill to produce the necessary effect. However, they are going to show us that "It Can Be Done."

The class are in need of money and it seems that as they are putting forth so great an effort to give us an evening intermingled with tensile and fun, we should likewise turn out and patronize them, thereby enlarging their funds.

Just an idea of what is awaiting you. There will be three big acts in which are: detectives, writers, travelers, crooks and ghosts. In the dead of night are heard blood-curdling yells, screams, moans, pistol shots, lightning, thunder and it finally ends in two thrilling romances. Between acts you will have the privilege of hearing Mr. Patrick Gilligan speak on "The Irish in American History" and Hank Hoskins, a good judge of horses, on "What!"

The play is to be given next week, May 4. The cast will appear in next week's paper. In the meantime be prepared to purchase your ticket. And don't forget! Get a reserved seat ticket at Olson's Drug Store—only ten cents.

E. M. T. PLANS OUTDOOR LIFE EXHIBIT

(By E. M. T. Service)

The East Michigan Tourist association is completing plans for its exhibit at the Outdoor Life Exposition at the Coliseum, Chicago, May 7 to 12. The association will distribute East Michigan literature at this show. Members of the association who will be in Chicago at the time of the show will be made welcome at the E. M. T. office.

The Michigan exhibits, it is believed, will dominate the show this year. This is largely attributable to the co-operation which has existed in the planning of the exhibits between the Conservation Department of the state, the East Michigan Tourist association, the West Michigan Tourist & Resort association and the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

The East Michigan Tourist association will make arrangements for space for all members of the association who desire to engage exhibit space. The association has notified chamber of commerce affiliated that their literature will be distributed from the association booth.

USEFUL INFORMATION

Some months present so much heavier cash expense than others, it is well to look ahead and provide if possible for these periods. If Easter outfits caught you unawares, how about graduation? You have a vacation fund, doubtless, but the new school term, with books to buy, and often fall clothing, follows hard on the heels of the holidays.

Have you seen the new leaflet, No. 17, on "Cooking Beef According to the Cut"? It is issued free by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. One of the recommendations made in it is that a thermometer should be used in roasting ribs of beef in order to tell whether they are rare, medium, or well-done. This removed the element of guesswork and gives the same results every time.

E. M. T. OFFICE FORCE UNUSUALLY BUSY

(By E. M. T. Service)

The office of the East Michigan Tourist association is a hive of industry these days. Six young women are busily engaged throughout the work-day answering inquiries from those interested in East Michigan's vacation appeals. Every mail brings scores of requests from residents of all sections of the country.

These inquiries are the result of advertising and direct mail publicity to bankers, dentists, physicians, teachers, etc.

Indications are that the 1928 season will be East Michigan's greatest tourist and resort season. Inquiries, resort developments, weather predictions, etc., all point to a big season.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES
OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO.

Thursday, March 30, 1905

Don't put off planting a few shade trees this spring.

A clean back yard is a sign of a good citizen. How about yours?

Walmer Jorgenson has bought the pleasant home of Mrs. Lea Goulet on Chestnut street.

The Grayling base ball team was organized and is getting ready for another winning campaign this summer.

Monday and Tuesday were bright and springlike, balmy and charming—but it isn't safe to fool with predictions yet.

Adler Jorgenson will return here from Lewiston with his family, and resume his position with Salting, Hanson & Co.

Dr. S. N. Insley has bought the lots where the old Avallanche office stood, which will make a fine addition to his present home.

N. P. Olson is excavating to put a furnace under the drug store.

Mrs. G. T. Jerome was called to Detroit last Friday by the death of a cousin.

Miss Elizabeth Alexander was called to Plymouth last week on account of the death of a cousin in that city.

Mrs. M. A. Bates, with "George Washington" and Miss Lillian, have gone to Gaylord for a week's visit, leaving the postmaster desolate.

Benj. Jerome is home from the Agricultural College for the short vacation. He is highly pleased with his score, but will enjoy the brief rest.

and Mrs. Merrill Simpson, who are spending the winter here, have returned to their home in Lansing tomorrow.

John Lloyd of Beaver Creek was in village Tuesday. He says he is going for the spring's work and is enthusiastic concerning the future of our country.

Ida Flagg has rented the shop on Taylor, south of the post-office. She will open a general repair shop, doing from a baby carriage or sewing machine to a steamboat.

Mrs. Ida Evans, nee of Venetia, C. T. was united in marriage the 19th inst. to Mr. Robert Pate of that city. She will receive the united good wishes of hosts of her friends here.

Dr. Montgomery of Wilmette, Ill., who owns the John Hanna farm in Beaver Creek and other lands, was in town this week. He is planning for another year's campaign with the farm.

The ground has been staked out for the foundations of the new hardwood flooring mill, on the east side of the planing mill. We understand the main building is to be 75x400 feet, but are unable to give a full description this week. Will tell you all about it later on.

John Holbrook and his family came down from Mackinac to attend his sister's wedding the 19th; and his wife and babies remained here for a visit with old friends. The two younger children were attacked with pneumonia and were in a critical condition for several days, but seem to be out of danger now, though greatly reduced in strength.

At the spring election there will be a novel proposition. The village council and township board have failed to agree on any settlement of the property matters in which both have an interest. Those advocating the side of the township claim that the town, outside of the village, has paid more than half the cost of the fire apparatus and have had no benefit, and that the village should buy their interest and down it all, and have ordered a ballot to be taken on the question: "Shall the village pay the township its proportion of the value of the fire apparatus? Yes or No?"

School Notes

Algebra class is struggling with the mysteries of quadratics.

Little Maggie Hemmingson enjoys the honor of earning 100 per cent on the arithmetic examination from the second grade teachers' examination.

The whole class in commercial took the examination, all passed, and by so doing, will be excused from taking a final. There were several who passed over 90, and none had standings of which they need feel ashamed.

The geometry class, Mr. Bradley's pride, has completed plane geometry. All passed and are now delving in the mysteries of solid. Next year a class will be organized in trigonometry to do extra work along this line.

Frank Trombley is fast earning the name of being one of the hardest working students in the high school. He is one of several who seldom have time in school for anything aside from their work.

The merry click of the new Remington can be heard at all hours. We expect some expert work by June. The commercials use the "touch" method, thereby enabling them to write without looking at the machine.

Visit Miss Annin's class that is reading "William Tell."

A howl has been raised for some time among Michigan farmers against any law that would deprive one man the right of hunting on another's grounds—the howl has become popular of late in view of the number of private clubs in the state. Senator Baird has dug up an act over twenty-five years old, sections 5,623 and 5,624, Compiled Laws, which has never been repealed, and which makes such hunting a misdemeanor with suitable penalties.

Thursday, April 6, 1905

R. Richardson is putting an addition on his residence.

Born—Thursday, March 23, to Mr. and Mrs. George Cook, a daughter, Fred Michelson is home from Big Rapids, where he has been attending the Ferris Institute.

Fred Narrin has been appointed P. H. C. R. of the new High Court of Eastern Michigan, I. O. F.

Mrs. M. Hanson will serve a 10-cent lunch Saturday afternoon, for the benefit of the Catholic church.

Everybody go and eat.

Master Guy Woodworth of Portland, Col., is here and expects to spend the summer with his grandfather, Dr. Woodworth.

Fred Hoelski had the misfortune to lose another valuable horse last week. He will find another all right, but it is hard, luck just the same.

D. S. Waldron has returned from his winter visit in Ohio. He has had a very enjoyable time, but is glad to be back in the pure air of Northern Michigan.

B. F. Sherman of Maple Forest was in town Monday, the first time since he moved to the west part of the state a year or more ago. He is fat and happy as ever.

Misses Laura Simpson and Edith Melny came home from their school at Traverse City for this week's vacation, and will begin their work again Monday, glad of the little rest and a pleasant visit at home.

Ben Jerome returned to the M. A. C. last Saturday.

Miss Eva Woodworth spent Sunday with the home folks.

Mrs. D. M. Kneeland was in town last Saturday, en route for Detroit.

Mrs. George Eisenhauer returned from Bay City last Saturday, where she has been undergoing a surgical operation.

Mrs. Lars Nelson and Mrs. Ness were made glad by the arrival of their mother from Denmark last Monday, whom they had not seen for over twenty-five years.

D. H. McMillan, a brakeman on the M. C. R. R., was killed on the Detroit branch while coupling cars this morning. His brother was killed in a similar manner on the hill south of here a few years ago.

The Grayling Dramatic company put "Mardi le Romp" on the boards at the Lewiston Opera House last Friday and Saturday nights, before a delighted audience. It was a grand success in every respect, and the company is sure of a royal welcome whenever they visit Lewiston again.

The Goodfellowship club met last Monday night with Mrs. Benkleman. The introductory chapters of "Handbook of Japan" were very interesting. The club meets next Monday night with Mrs. Woodworth. Response to roll call will be Customs of Japan.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

ADVISES RESEEDING OF ALFALFA FIELDS

Partial Crops Can Be Saved and Fair Crop Of Hay Be Secured

East Lansing, April 23.—Owners of alfalfa fields upon which part of the plants have been winter killed are advised by the farm crops department at Michigan State College not to plow down the alfalfa but to reseed the fields.

In places where the plants are killed out in well defined areas, these spots should be thoroughly worked up with a spring-tooth harrow and seed broadcast at the rate of eight to ten pounds of the seed per acre. On fields where the stand has not been killed out in spots, but where the stand has been thinned over the entire acreage, the spring-tooth harrow should be used on the whole field and the seed broadcast as before.

Reseeding will not be successful on fields where June grass or quack grass has made a sod.

A heavy roller or a cultipacker should be used on the fields after the alfalfa seed has been sown. The packing of the soil will help cover the seed and will also assist in saving some plants that have been partially killed from the soil during the winter.

Reseeding fields will pay in most cases where from one half to two thirds of the original stand is still alive. A fair crop of hay will be produced on these fields.

Michigan Farmers Need High Yields Of Spring Grains To Avoid Loss

East Lansing, April 23.—Under average Michigan conditions, it is necessary to have the seed for corn or barley in a state of fertility which will produce a high yield per acre if any appreciable profit is to be secured from the crops, according to a statement by the soils department at Michigan State College.

On soils which are naturally deficient in plant food, or on those where the fertility has been reduced by excessive cropping, the use of commercial fertilizers is recommended.

Acid phosphate has proved to be profitable in increasing yields of oats and barley on the heavier soils which are especially adapted to these crops. On lighter soils or those notably deficient in plant food, the use of a complete fertilizer with an analysis of 2-10-2 or 4-10-4 is advised. Both the complete fertilizer and the acid phosphate should be applied at the rate of from 15 to 20 pounds to the acre.

The addition of the fertilizer aids in securing a higher yield of grain and is also good insurance for a stand of clover or other legume seeded with the grain crop.

There is need for more attention to standardization and better handling in preparing strawberries for market. Farmers' Bulletin 1506-F, "Preparing Strawberries for Market," describes the most efficient methods of handling this crop for the market. Get it from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Wool sold on a "grease basis" refers to fleece wool sold in the greasy condition as it is removed from the sheep. Wool on the "scoured basis" refers to clean wool in a fleece that is still in a greasy condition, but with allowances made for the grease, dirt, and other foreign substances.

condition as it is removed from the sheep. Wool on the "scoured basis" refers to clean wool in a fleece that is still in a greasy condition, but with allowances made for the grease, dirt, and other foreign substances.

Quoting wool on the scoured basis refers to the practice of estimating the cost of clean wool in a lot of greasy wool at any given grease basis price.

If fresh skim milk is not easily available for the dairy, dry skim milk, if fresh and wholesome and properly mixed with water so that it is of the same composition, makes a good substitute for fresh skim milk. One part of the dried milk should be mixed with nine parts of warm water. In preparing it, mix the dried milk with an equal amount of water, stir it thoroughly to make it smooth, and then add the rest of the water. This feed should always be mixed in the same proportion and should be fed at a temperature of about 100 degrees F.

The feed required to produce gains on steers fattened in this lot is usually figured in terms of 100 pounds of gain. The exact amount of feed necessary for a given quantity of gain depends, of course, on the kind of feed and the age, weight, and individuality of the steer.

In the Corn Belt many cattle feeders figure the feed in the number of bushels of corn required to fatten the steer. For example, the amount of corn needed to develop a 2-year-old feeder into a finished animal is about 50 bushels. Young cattle generally make greater gains than older ones on the same amount of feed. A 3-year-old steer, fed on a corn and alfalfa ration, requires approximately 600 pounds of corn and 425 pounds of alfalfa to fatten to 1,000 pounds. A 2-year-old steer needs only approximately from 63 to 95 per cent as much feed as a 3-year-old, a yearling from 85 to 90 per cent, and a calf from 70 to 75 per cent.

Dust the Rose Bushes. Among the various diseases which attack rose bushes in the garden, powdery mildew is one of the most common, and one to which nearly all varieties are susceptible. A characteristic symptom of powdery mildew is the powdery whitish coating which appears early in the season on the leaves, usually soon after they begin to develop. If the weather is warm or muggy in the late spring, this disease develops very rapidly. If severe, the growth of the rose bush will be stunted, the leaves will curl, dry, and drop off, and the unopened buds, stems, and thorns will be covered with the powdery coat. Although the plant seldom dies, it does not develop normally and the foliage is disfigured; sufficient reasons for controlling the mildew. The fungicide which has proved most effective for home gardeners is a dust of nine parts of dusting sulphur (not flowers of sulphur) and one part of dry arsenate of lead. (Arsenate of lead is a highly effective fungicide which may be present in the air. Do this should be done when the air is fairly dry and calm. Applications should be made when the leaves first develop and should be continued until late in the summer at intervals of ten days or two weeks. Planting the bushes where they will get plenty of ventilation and sunlight helps to avoid development of this disease. If it has developed, the collection and burning of diseased leaves on the ground may prevent its spread.

HOTEL MAN NOTES FRUITS OF ORGANIZATION

(By E. M. T. Service)

Ernest Piper, proprietor of the Madison-Lenox Hotel, Detroit, is interested in and keeps in close touch with the tourist industry in the state. He visits the different sections of the state during the tourist season and talks to the visitors and the residents in conversation recently with a representative of the East Michigan Tourist association, he said:

"If the East Michigan Tourist association never accomplished anything else, in my estimation it has justified its existence through its work in building up a consciousness of recreational attributes and an inclination toward courtesy on the part of our residents. Particularly notable and noticeable is the latter element. A few years ago, residents looked upon the tourists as necessary evils and they received scant attention. Today, the tourist and visitor is treated everywhere with cordial consideration and shown every courtesy. This is having a wonderful result in the reports which the visitor is taking home with him."

This is General Motors Proving Ground

A birdseye view of the 1245-acre Proving Ground maintained by General Motors to assure the quality and value of its cars and trucks.

1. Entrance to the Proving Ground. The group of buildings includes complete experimental and service shops, engineering offices and comfortable living quarters for resident and visiting engineers and for the driving crews. The Proving Ground personnel numbers more than 200 men.

2. The 4-mile high-speed loop. The largest in America, made of concrete, with turns banked to permit continuous high-speed operation. In addition, the Proving Ground has two concrete straight-aways 1 1/2 miles long, as level as a billiard table, and miles of brick, tar, gravel and dirt roads which reproduce every driving and weather condition.

3. The hill-test road. Test hill grades at the Proving Ground range from 7.26 per cent to 24 per cent. The grades on public highways seldom exceed 7 per cent.

4. The "bath-tub." A depressed concrete roadway which is filled with water at varying depths to reproduce flooded roadway conditions.

Here each General Motors car must prove its value

On a 1245-acre tract near Milford, Michigan, convenient to all its car and truck divisions, General Motors has the first and largest proving ground for automobiles.

Here tests are made and facts determined to a degree impossible when cars and trucks are tested on the public highways. Here each new model of General Motors must prove itself, point by point, before it is produced for sale to the public.

More than 135 different tests are applied to each car tested at the Proving Ground.

They involve every phase of construction and performance: power, speed, endurance, acceleration, braking, steering, handling, riding comfort, fuel economy and so on. In three months a car or truck covers more miles than you would drive it in three years.

The Proving Ground is another example of how General Motors is serving the public. It is also your assurance that when you buy a General Motors product you are getting all possible quality and value at its price and the advantages of a policy of continuous improvement.

Look at these values—then clip the coupon

The current models of General Motors cars are briefly described below. Never before in the history of the automobile industry have such performance, such quality, such comfort and such beauty been offered in their respective price classes. They have been proved at the Proving Ground!

(All prices F. O. B. at the factories)

CHEVROLET. 7 models, $495 to $715. Bigger and better than ever before. 4-wheel brakes. Longer wheel base. Still more powerful engine. Luxurious Fisher Bodies. Shock absorber springs. New hood. New Duco colors. New instrument panel and other improvements. ALSO truck chassis: 1/2-ton, $395. 1-ton, $495.

OAKLAND. 9 models, $1045 to $1375. The All-American Six. Advanced engineering and precision construction. Longer, lower and more beautiful. Bodies by Fisher. Every convenience. 4-wheel brakes. New Duco colors. Harmonic balancer.

CADILLAC. 26 models, $3295 to $5500. "What," General Motors asked last year, "can possibly be done to improve Cadillac?" The result is embodied in the new models now on display, representing the high-water mark of Cadillac's long history. Supplentuous bodies by Fisher and Fleetwood. 500 color combinations to choose from.

PONTIAC. 8 models, $745 to $875. The lowest-priced quality "six." Improved from radiator to tail-light. For example: 4-wheel brakes, new GMR cylinder head, increased power, locking device, more luxurious Fisher Bodies. Finished in Duco in new color.

BUICK. 16 models, $1195 to $1995. The largest value in Buick's famous history. Beautiful low bodies by Fisher. Getaway-like an arrow from a bow. Vibrationless beyond belief. Famous 6-cylinder "Valve-in-head" engine. Sealed-in chassis.

FRIGIDAIRE—The Electric Refrigerator. General Motors has applied the processes which have made the automobile available to every family—to the production of electric refrigerators. Frigidaire is the refrigerator made by General Motors and it is now the world's largest selling product in its field.

OLDSMOBILE. 7 models, $925 to $1085. Entirely redesigned by General Motors, the new Oldsmobile has earned the title of "The Fine Car at Low Cost." Longer, roomier, more powerful—and the last word in styling. Fisher Bodies. 4-wheel brakes.

LASALLE. 16 models, $2350 to $2975. This beautiful car was designed as companion car to Cadillac. Has V-type 90 degree 8-cylinder engine which has made Cadillac the standard fine car of the world. Built in Cadillac factory. Continental in appearance.

DELCO-LIGHT Electric Plants. Provide the conveniences and labor-saving devices of the city for the farm. Electric light and power plants, water pumps, etc. Used in more than a quarter million homes.

For the convenient purchase of these products, General Motors offers the standard low-cost GMAC Plan.

The fine bird house that is on exhibit in the H. Petersen grocery show window was presented by the Ladies of the Woman's club to the Village. It is expected that it will be put up in the Court yard. The house is octagon in shape and two stories high and has a capacity of 40 bird families. It is white with asphalt roof and is a beauty. The house was made by Charles Fehr.

Down rivermen report the water in the river about three inches higher than normal for this time of the year. This will make wading not quite so easy in some places altho the experienced angler will understand how to avoid the danger of a ducking. The water is cold and waders will have to go into the streams well protected. It looks like a good season in so far as trout is concerned. Caretakers report full houses scheduled for the first day of the season.

Grayling friends will be glad to learn of the appointment of Francis A. Regan, a former Grayling boy who has been employed as Assistant Scout Executive of the Thumb district.
